From Traditional Chinese to Simplified.

Multilingualism is certainly the future trend for all Australians. As Australia is situated in the Asia-Pacific region, Asian languages, therefore, are very important for building stronger relationships across the region including closer educational, cultural and people links.

Australian Multicultural Education Centre (AMEC) has a strong background in offering excellent Chinese tutors who prepare students by providing outstanding Chinese language skills for global use. AMEC has a highly successful training program (TCSOL- Certificate in Teaching Chinese as a Foreign Language (TCFL) accreditation by EDI in the UK and TCSOL in USA; not only in Australia but also in China, Hong Kong, Taiwan area, Singapore and USA.

Q&A: Will you teach Traditional Chinese or Simplified Chinese?

We teach both! We will teach both traditional to simplified characters. Currently, Mainland China uses Simplified Chinese; however, Hong Kong, Macao, Singapore and Taiwan still use traditional Chinese. Chinese Characters are a beautiful art form and include many stories and meanings about how and why Chinese words came to be. Moreover, we will use a fun, interesting way to explain how the Chinese language has developed and change from traditional to simplified Chinese over time.

“Learning Chinese will improve your linguistic relativity. In short, learning Chinese language will assist in the acquisition of skills, other subjects such as mathematics and science.” – Wilhelm Von Humboldt.
